

STRIKERS AWAIT NIGHT TO START ANOTHER BATTLE

ALL QUIET IN MCKEES ROCK, PENNSYLVANIA, TODAY.

TROOPS PATROL STREETS

Dead and Wounded of Last Night Not Yet Counted.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 23.—Following one of the most fatal and desperate strike riots experienced in Pittsburg in over a score of years, a quiet but tense situation prevailed this morning at McKees Rock, the scene last night of the terrifying conflict between the state, county and special police and employees of the Prospekt Steel Car company.

Although the riot is twelve hours old, the accurate list of casualties is still unknown. Unofficially, however, six are known to have been shot to death and two others are believed to have been killed, but carried away in the confusion.

A dozen men, both strikers and police, are in the hospitals fatally injured, while at least two score of men, women and children are suffering from bullet wounds and injuries inflicted with clubs and stones.

Aside from the human sacrifices, property damage to the extent of thousands of dollars occurred.

By noon today the streets of McKees Rock were absolutely deserted save for a few mounted state troopers who with carbines unslung and riot nooses drawn, walked their horses along the sidewalks inspecting houses and stores for crowds of strike sympathizers. No business was being transacted and even small stores have closed their doors.

The quietness of the situation, however, indicates anything but a spirit of peace. While the strike sympathizers are not being allowed to mobilize it is believed behind closed doors of their homes they are waiting for the cover of darkness to again resume their violent disorders of last night.

CAUGHT THIEF WHO STOLE FROM DEPOT

Grand Rapids Youth Who Stole $200 From Railway Captured And Arrested.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Grand Rapids, Wis., Aug. 23.—For some months past the agent at the Green Bay & Western Railroad company, A. D. Hill of this city, has been missing money out of the safe ticket machine, the total amount being about $200.

There was some doubt as to who could be stealing for there was nothing about the depot office rooms that was in any way disturbed and the money was usually missed during the noon and supper hour when the employees were absent. Mr. Hill set a trap and was successful in making a capture last evening, the thief proving to be a lad who usually mends his headquarters around the depot. The young man, Frank Coleman, was arrested a little later by Sheriff Michael Griffin. He denied the charge at first, but afterwards admitted it, and gave up $120 which he had hid in the tool room near the depot.

Child Shot Himself. Dr. Potter of Ashland, north of this city, brought to the hospital yesterday afternoon the seven-year-old son of Martha Hanzel, a farmer living near Sherry, for treatment. It was one of those unfortunate accidents the result of leaving loaded firearms the reach of children. The boy with a neighbor child of about his own age was at play in the granary in which place was kept a Winchester rifle, and although not loaded, had shells in the magazine. Childlike they began working the hammer and afterwards the lever which threw one of the loaded shells into the gun. There was a loud report followed by agonizing screams which brought the parents to the scene. The unfortunate lad was standing directly in front of the gun when it discharged, the ball passing through his left leg between the knee and ankle, carrying away two inches of the bone and nearly cutting the leg off.

MANITOWOC MAN ON A LONG CANOE TRIP

He and a Companion From Neenah Began Pleasure Jaunt of Couple of Hundred Miles.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Manitowoc, Wis., Aug. 23.—William Halberg, of Two Rivers, employed in this city, started today from Neenah on a several hundred mile canoe trip, the trip being up the Fox river to Portage, thence on the Wisconsin river to Killebrew and the Fox and returning via the same route, thence to Green Bay and down Lake Michigan to this port. Chas. Mathias, another Two Rivers man, accompanies him and the two left with all camping equipment. They expect to return about Sept. 10.

Pioneer Citizen Dead. Maurice Murphy, one of the oldest pioneers of the city, a resident here since the late 40's, died, aged 88, for nine years he has been helpless, being totally blind. He was a native of Ireland and came here from the south where he located upon arrival in Milwaukee. Three children survive him.

Liquor Men's Pleas. Retail liquor men of the city presented a plea held at Silver Creek park, yesterday and entertained 700 people. The usual picnic stunts made up the day's program. The picnic was part of a movement which has been launched by the local association to enlist the support of the public in a fight against local option which it is said may be made an issue in the next campaign.

Investigate Fire Department. A shake-up in the fire department may result from an investigation being made into affairs of the department by the police and fire commission as a result of charges of neglect of duty made against Fire Chief Kratz by Police Chief Grafton. The trouble started when business men of the city raised a fund to send Kratz to the national meeting of fire chiefs at Grand Rapids, Mich., last week, and there is said to be some jealousy in the case. The police department charges that his signal alarm system, which Kratz is supposed to maintain in proper working order, is out of repair two-thirds of the time and demands that the city employ a competent electrician to investigate. Kratz was charged in the council with being arbitrary and with permitting personalities to rule his department and the commission has taken the matter in hand. Kratz was attacked by a socialist administration three years ago but won out against the mayor and a socialist council.

SENATOR PERKINS SEVENTY YEARS OLD

Famous Californian Senator, Active as Ever, Will Probably Live Long After Allotted Time.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Oakland, Cal., Aug. 23.—Congratulatory messages from friends and admirers in many sections of the country were received today at the home of United States Senator George C. Perkins in this city to remind him of his seventieth birthday. Since the adjournment of congress the senator has been giving much of his attention to the arrangements for the coming visit of President Taft to California. He intends to join the Taft party on its trip through this section and doubtless will take advantage of the opportunity to improve upon the President the growing necessity for strong fortifications on the Pacific coast, of which Senator Perkins has long been an ardent advocate.

Senator Perkins carries his seventy years lightly, though his life has been one filled with many vicissitudes and stirring adventures. He is a product of the Golden State, although he may not boast of being a "native son." The town of Kennecottport, Malibu, gave him birth seventy years ago, and the wide ocean furnished a pathway to the gold diggings of California. Landing on the shores of California, a penniless lad of 17, in five years he had become one of the leading merchants of the state. At thirty he was a state senator, and at forty he was governor of California.

In his life story is wrapped one of the romances not uncommon in the successful men of the Pacific coast. At ten years of age he stowed himself away in a sailing vessel outbound from a Maine port, and became a sailor. At seventeen he came to this section to look for gold, failed as a miner, and then turned his attention to trade. In a few years he had built up a prosperous business and founded the great coast line of steamers plying between Sifta and extreme southern ports on the American coast. He built steam whalers and piled up wealth in many different ways. Today he is counted among the richest men in the west.

The loss is partially covered by insurance. Workmen will at once commence the work of rebuilding the plant. C. WATERWAYS WILL HAVE ATTENTION

NEXT SESSION OF CONGRESS WILL SEE SOME RADICAL CHANGES.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 23.—Among the men of the senate of the United States who have made waterway improvement a close study Senator Nathan Hay Scott, of West Virginia, easily takes first rank. Senator Scott, in years of business life, has had time enough to make several trips to the older countries of the world and as a result of these visits he has been a keen observer of the way in which not only Europe, but the countries in the far east use their waterways, for purposes of freight transportation, but for passenger transportation as well.

"Holland to my mind presents the best example of waterway development of any country I know in Europe," said Senator Scott. "Lying as it does and facing the sea its canals are not only a subject of wonderment to the visitor, but a source of endless profit to its people. Small as Holland is, smaller than many of our own states, the waterway problem seems to have been solved in Holland much more effectively and with more natural rivers to aid in the solution of the transportation problem."

"From whatever point of view one seeks the great natural water highways of the United States there comes the sense of unaccomplished things in relation to our own rivers and canals. Nature has been most prodigal in not only giving us a magnificent coast line, but she has placed within our dominion rivers that are not rivaled anywhere on earth, and it behooves us to make them our servants to carry our products to the sea, thereby relieving railway freight congestion and lighten the cost of transportation. The railroad has no more reason to fear or to oppose the steamboat than the trolley car. Both have their uses and both their limitations. Both are necessary to serve the people who live along the river or on the line of track, for the business done by river or by trolley will never be sufficient in volume to insure with the railroads how much the rivers may be improved or how cheaply they carry freight."

This connection let me say that good public roads and inland waterways will solve the problem of cheap freight rates and they go hand in hand together. I am firmly convinced that our waterway improvement ought to be carried on in a comprehensive and systematic manner as urged by the National Rivers and Harbors congress. Piecemeal appropriations for streams, that will never, in the very nature of things, contribute to the upbuilding of communities, should be abandoned. What we need most is wisdom behind our legislation for waterways and by that I mean that the future should bear its proportion in the development of our water courses as the present. If current revenues are not sufficient to provide for yearly expenditures of money to develop our great natural highways, then I, for one, will vote for a bond issue of sufficient amount to make possible the harnessing of the Ohio, the control of the Mississippi and the opening up of a water route from Lake Erie to the gulf. The Ohio river is being improved too slowly and it is discouraging to the business men who figures upon the earning power of every penny to see his receipts dwindle because of the lack of water transportation for bulkier freight. What I would like to see is inland navigation from the lakes to the peninsula, and when the steamboats come back again upon our rivers then the high tide of our prosperity will be reached."

Saturday's games in the Commercial league were watched with unusual interest by the fans of the city, on account of the nearness of the close of the season. With but two more games to play, the fans are conjecturing as to the final outcome of the series. The Janesville Machine company still stands at the head, but the increased speed put on by the Parker Pen company has caused some speculation as to whether or not they will be able to win from the Machine company next Saturday, when they meet. The Lewis Knitting company has no chance for second place, but unless it suffers defeat in the next two contests, will probably occupy third place, with the Y. M. C. A. in fourth place. Just who will be placed at the foot of the percentage column is to be settled between the Wisconsin Carriage company and the Gazette Printing company.

WISCONSIN TURTLES FIND READY MARKET

Variety of Snappers Bought up for Eastern Trade and Sold at Fancy Prices.

Among the infant industries of Wisconsin not as yet widely advertised is that of catching turtles of the snapper variety for the eastern market. On many of the lakes and streams in the country adjacent to Janesville men are already seeing the value of the snapper turtle and have begun to systematically fish for them. Some fancy prices have already been received for large turtles by eastern markets, where it is used in place of the more expensive eastern river and ocean variety and the consumer none the wiser. One fisherman in discussing this new industry stated with a smirk that if the demand keeps up from the east the prices will go to ten cents a pound, which will mean money to the men handling them.

MINING MEN TO TALK OVER MONEY QUESTION

The American Mining Congress will hold its twelfth annual session at Goldfield, Nevada, Sept. 27 to Oct. 2, 1939. A program is being arranged which will include a discussion of various matters pertaining to the welfare and progress of the mining industry, the aim being to give greater opportunity for practical discussion, and consume less time in the reading of technical papers.

During the past year the congress has had several committees at work conducting investigations, report of which will be made to this session. These reports will be open for discussion, and the committee reporting are as follows: Law, by Geo. W. Ritter, Salt Lake City, Utah, chairman; Committee on Coal Tax Insurance fund, by Samuel A. Taylor, Pittsburgh, Pa. chairman; Committee on General Revision of Mining Laws, by Walter H. Ingalls, New York City, chairman; Committee on Standardization of Electrical Equipment, by Edward D. Ross, Washington, D. C., chairman; Committee on Prevention of Mine Accidents, by H. Foster Bahr, San Francisco, Cal., chairman; Committee on National Forest Service, by Col. A. G. Brownlee, Denver, Colo., chairman; Committee on Alaskan Mining Laws, by J. L. Steele, Landlocked, Alaska, chairman.

The silver question will be discussed with a view to devising means of bringing about a greater use of silver, and decreasing the rate of ex- change between the United States and countries using a silver standard. Sir Morston Foxworth, of London, England; James J. Hill and John Hays Hammond have been invited to speak on this subject.

Goldfield citizens are making elaborate arrangements for showing the district to the delegates, and the State of Nevada has appropriated $5,000 to pay the expense of collecting and classifying a comprehensive display of the state's minerals, which is being installed at Goldfield.

The Congress will consist of the regular members of the organization, and all duly appointed delegates, who have equal powers in all the deliberations of the open body. Mining men contemplating attendance should address the Secretary at Denver, Colorado, for more complete information.

MINING MEN TO TALK OVER MONEY QUESTION

The American Mining Congress will hold its twelfth annual session at Goldfield, Nevada, Sept. 27 to Oct. 2, 1939. A program is being arranged which will include a discussion of various matters pertaining to the welfare and progress of the mining industry, the aim being to give greater opportunity for practical discussion, and consume less time in the reading of technical papers.

During the past year the congress has had several committees at work conducting investigations, report of which will be made to this session. These reports will be open for discussion, and the committee reporting are as follows: Law, by Geo. W. Ritter, Salt Lake City, Utah, chairman; Committee on Coal Tax Insurance fund, by Samuel A. Taylor, Pittsburgh, Pa. chairman; Committee on General Revision of Mining Laws, by Walter H. Ingalls, New York City, chairman; Committee on Standardization of Electrical Equipment, by Edward D. Ross, Washington, D. C., chairman; Committee on Prevention of Mine Accidents, by H. Foster Bahr, San Francisco, Cal., chairman; Committee on National Forest Service, by Col. A. G. Brownlee, Denver, Colo., chairman; Committee on Alaskan Mining Laws, by J. L. Steele, Landlocked, Alaska, chairman.

The silver question will be discussed with a view to devising means of bringing about a greater use of silver, and decreasing the rate of ex- change between the United States and countries using a silver standard. Sir Morston Foxworth, of London, England; James J. Hill and John Hays Hammond have been invited to speak on this subject.

Goldfield citizens are making elaborate arrangements for showing the district to the delegates, and the State of Nevada has appropriated $5,000 to pay the expense of collecting and classifying a comprehensive display of the state's minerals, which is being installed at Goldfield.

The Congress will consist of the regular members of the organization, and all duly appointed delegates, who have equal powers in all the deliberations of the open body. Mining men contemplating attendance should address the Secretary at Denver, Colorado, for more complete information.

Measuring Brains.

The cephalic index of old Athenians was a wee, wee bit better than ours. Cephalic index means volume of brain. It is found by filling a skull with peas and then measuring them. Ancient Athenians have a few peas on us. The Greeks never lasted bloodshed like the Romans and some of us moderns. —New York Post.

For a Cold.

If one has a severe cold in the head, rub the bridge of the nose thoroughly with vasoline at night. This simple remedy works like a charm. Another effective method is to snuff warm salt water.

WAR SITUATION IN MASSACHUSETTS AT A GLANCE.

AT THE SOUTH ARE THE ENEMY ATTEMPTING TO CAPTURE BOSTON—BETWEEN THEM AND BOSTON ARE GATHERED THE ARMY OF DEFENSE.

The source of contention between China and Japan at a glance. Antung-Mukden railroad, built by Japan during the war with Russia to aid in transportation of troops.

By terms of treaty Japan was permitted to reconstruct the line at her own expense, and use it for a term of 15 years from completion, and then turn it over to China at a price to be agreed upon.

A railroad will aid Japanese transportation by furnishing a short cut to Trans-Siberian line. Japan wants to change existing line, which is narrow gauge, to the standard gauge now in use in Korea. China objects to the standard gauge and says that the terminus must be at Mukden, and that the poleing of the lines must be left entirely in the Chinese hands and that all Japanese troops be withdrawn.

Washington, D. C.—It is generally conceded that according to the terms of the treaty Japan has a perfect right to go ahead with the construction of the railroad in practically any manner she desires. For the present the state department is to keep its hands off the matter, leaving it to China and Japan for decision. Nevertheless the United States has certainly reached an agreement with China and Russia with reference to the treaty of Mukden. If there should come an American diplomatic clash with Japan, it will arise over the regulations which Japan will formulate for the railroad terminals at Mukden. The speculative aspect of the quarrel is that England is the ally of Japan. China has no offensive or defensive alliance with either Russia or the United States.

Tokio.—Work is being rushed on the Antung-Mukden railroad regardless of Chinese opposition. Many disguised Chinese troops continue to arrive in the disputed zone. The censorship continues on the local press and no mention of what is going on is allowed to be printed.

CHICAGO OPENS OUTDOOR SCHOOL FOR TUBERCULOSIS—CHILDREN EATING BREAKFAST

Chicago's first outdoor school was opened this week on the grounds of the Harvard school, Seventy-fifth street and Vincennes avenue. It is to be conducted for tuberculous children. Only two other schools of the kind exist in the United States. Thirty pupils were selected by medical examination at the stock yards dispensary out of 50 applicants. All the expenses of the school will be borne by the board of education, which will supply tents, grounds, equipment and teachers. Food transportation and medical services will be furnished by the Chicago Tuberculosis Institute.

The school will be kept open until the regular fall term of the city schools begins. It is the hope of Frank E. Wing, superintendent of the Chicago Tuberculosis Institute, that by that time the experiment will have proved such a success that the board of education will maintain the school permanently.

The school will be operated in the manner that similar institutions are in Boston and New York. The management of the school has been entrusted to William E. Watt, principal of the Graham school. Mr. Watt will be assisted by applicants for positions in the Chicago vacation schools. The school day will begin as soon as the children can get out of bed, dress, and ride on their free tickets to the school grounds. There, at 8:30 o'clock this morning, breakfast will be served in a big mess tent. After this morning meal each child will be asked to wash his teeth, and then all will help with the dish-washing, cleaning and other camp duties. According to Mr. Wing, it is the plan to have the children pass the morning in light instruction play, gardening, story-telling and gymnastics. After the noon meal there will be an hour or two for rest and sleep. The last thing in the school day will be a shower bath for each pupil. This will come immediately after supper in the mess tent and then the children will be placed on the cars and sent to their homes. "Will such a vacation remaining, be of much benefit to the infected children?" Mr. Wing was asked. "No," he said, "but it is hoped that before fall such good results may be seen as to warrant the continuation of the school throughout the fall and winter and the final adoption of the plan as a permanent board of education policy."

Country-Bred Boys Win.
Fully 90 per cent. of all the famous Americans have been country-bred and all of them acknowledge their fame and success due to the foundations they laid as boys on the old farmstead. There are one hundred country youths who succeed and make their mark in the world to one city-bred and city-bred. For every country boy who falls in the race of life, more than a thousand failures can be laid to the city.

The hollyhock resembles a tall modest maiden. The air of aloofness and aristocratic sufficiency veils beauty and charm. Friends have told me of fragrant hollyhocks, but I have yet to meet one, while knowing full well that with a generous supply of honey and nectar there should be perfume hidden deep in the heart of the flower.

WILL WONDERS NEVER CEASE?

IT IS CREATING A GREAT SENSATION IN MANY LOCALITIES.

Many people are now going to the Rollable Drug Co.'s drug store to learn all they can of the new remedy that is creating so much talk and newspaper comment. Scores of people throughout the state have been cured by the remedy within the past few months, and testimonials continue to come in from every direction in rapid succession. Here, in Janesville and vicinity, numbers of people are taking the remedy and many of them are praising it very highly, although they have been using it but a short while. While the demonstrations were being conducted at Greenburg, Ind., J. W. Boyle, of 118 East Washington street, said: "My wife has been using Rollable Juice and it is doing wonders for her. Before taking the remedy she had a very bad stomach. The lightest food would come up on her stomach and cause it to burn and pain her very much. In fact, she said she felt it was raw from top to bottom. Recently her trouble was aggravated by an attack of the flu. Her appetite was very poor, but after taking the Juice a few days her appetite returned and she now digests everything she eats without the least pain or inconvenience. She is no longer weak and nervous, but seems like a new woman. The remedy has proved a wonderful blessing to her." In fact, so many people are talking about the new remedy and telling of so much wonderful good it is doing that people are going to the Rollable Drug Co.'s drug store in numbers to get some of the wonderful medicine.

L. N. WILLIAMSON IN A CRITICAL STATE

Stricken With Paralysis And Unconscious When Friends Reached His Bedside This Morning.

L. N. Williamson, who has been rooming at the home of Mrs. Cordelia Davis, 315 North Main street, since his son, George Williamson, of the Williamson Pen Co., and wife departed for California some months ago, suffered a second and total stroke of paralysis this morning, and was unconscious when found lying across his bed about ten o'clock. He had partially recovered from the first stroke which overtook him in California about a year ago and was on the streets last Saturday, but Dr. James Mills, who was summoned to his bedside this forenoon, found his condition very grave and on his advice a telegram was at once sent to California. A nurse has been secured and the best possible care will be given him pending the arrival of his relatives. It is possible, however, that he may not live until his sons reach Janesville. Many years ago Mr. Williamson was bookkeeper for a local shoe factory, but later, until his health became impaired, he had followed the vocation of a traveling salesman. His wife died several years ago.

IS BROTHER OF THE BORAX KING

B. G. Smith of Oakland, Cal., Here Awaiting Supreme Court Decision In 30-year-old Action.

B. G. Smith of Oakland, Cal., former resident of Janesville and brother of the man of Twenty Nine Borax fame, is in the city on business and will remain here several weeks, pending a decision relative to an action which had been in the Rock county circuit court nearly thirty years, when dismissed without his consent a year or two ago. It appears that Mr. Smith prior to his departure from Janesville in 1876 had been associated in business with the late Guy Carter and in order to satisfy a debt of $8,000 which he was unable to meet at the time, gave the late Mr. Carter a mortgage on a farm on Milwaukee avenue, with the understanding that the proceeds should go, first to the payment of taxes; then to the interest on the mortgage; and whatever remained to the principal on the mortgage. In the course of a few years when Mr. Smith had an opportunity to sell the property, he learned that the mortgagee claimed the land on tax titles. Litigation was commenced in the courts and dragged along a number of years, it being finally shown that the proceeds had satisfied the original debt and interest within a given period. A full accounting for all the proceeds for all the years, however, was never rendered, according to Mr. Smith, and when his action against the Carter heirs was dismissed without his sanction, he appealed to the supreme court to have it again placed on the circuit court calendar. It is expected that a decision will be handed down in October.

JOINS HER PARENTS IN HEAVENLY HOME

Baby Elizabeth Rice, Left Motherless In California Last March, Died This Morning.

Elizabeth Louise Rice, five months old baby, died this morning at eleven o'clock at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Goodsell, South Pearl street. The infant was the youngest of a family of six, who were left motherless and fatherless in California. Their father, Charles Rice, passed away in September, 1908, and the mother, Ida M. Rice, in March, 1909. The children, after their mother's death, were separated and distributed far and wide. Most of the possessions of their parents were taken by the hospitable Californians and even some of their own clothes were stolen. Mr. and Mrs. Goodsell went to California, and after considerable delay, with the California authorities were deciding whether or not the children should be turned over to their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Goodsell were finally allowed to bring the children to Wisconsin to take care of them. The brothers and sisters of the little one are Bonnie, Howard, Mary, Grace and Alice. The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at eleven o'clock from the home, South Pearl street, and the remains will be taken to Elroy for burial.

HAVE CHECKED THE SPREAD OF DISEASE

Outbreak of Anthrax at the University Stock Farm Has Been Brought Under Control.

The outbreak of anthrax in the dairy herd at the farm of the University of Wisconsin is now thoroughly under control and no further spread of the disease is anticipated. The authorities of the College of Agriculture have taken precautions to check the disease and to prevent its further spread among the university livestock.

The death of a cow in a pasture aroused a suspicion of the presence of some disease and the sale of milk was discontinued and the dairy herd placed under strict surveillance. A quarantine was at once established and an isolated stable provided, in which all cows that showed abnormal temperatures were at once taken. One cow, two heifer calves, a pig and a young goat have died.

Dr. A. S. Alexander, veterinarian of the College of Agriculture, assisted by B. W. Hummer, of the bacteriology department, quickly diagnosed the disease and notified the state veterinarian, D. H. Clark, who assisted in the examination of the suspected animals and in establishing a quarantine. All of the herd of cows, and such horses and pigs as were exposed to infection, were immediately injected with anthrax vaccine, and since quarantine was established no new cases have developed. Prof. G. C. Humphrey, in charge of university farm, has superintended the entire work of the quarantine, disinfecting the stables and the cremation of the bodies of the animals that have died.

The authorities are positive that no infected milk has been distributed, as the sale of milk was discontinued before any of the dairy cows showed symptoms of the disease. Those who have previously used milk from the herd are assured that there need be no fear of contracting the disease from milk. The bacteriology department is conducting an investigation to determine the source of infection. Pending the results of this investigation no animal's feed, or other material will be brought in or taken from the farm in order to prevent any further spread of the disease.

ICEMEN CHARGED WITH ASSAULT AND BATTERY

Charles Thompson and Joseph Wenzel Pleaded Not Guilty to Complaints of Earl Patterson.

On complaint of Earl E. Patterson, Charles Thompson and Joseph Wenzel, employees of the Crystal Lake Ice company, appeared in municipal court this morning to answer to charges of assault and battery. Each entered a plea of "not guilty" and the cases were set for trial at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Patterson alleges that he was insulted by Thompson for failing as delivery man, to follow the latter's ice wagon close enough last Friday, and that Wenzel later attacked him in a bar room. He has retained Attorney E. H. Ryan to prosecute the case.

SHEPHERD PLATE—The production of plates made by an entirely different process from that used 150 years ago. The same copper back and the same designs are used, however, and the wearing qualities are fully equal to that of the original plates.

These pieces of plated household ware gradually took the place of Sterling Silver to a great extent, in the homes of the English people and today now as well as old can be seen with the family plate. Generally a large old English letter—the first of the family name—was engraved in the piece. Many times the full name was placed on the underside. Monograms and coats of arms were used more particularly for the stationary and decorations.—Jewelers' Review.

SPLIT SWITCH IS CAUSE OF A WRECK

Two-Fifteen Interurban Car Went Off the Track on Franklin Street.

Twenty-five passengers on the Rockford and Interurban car No. 705 which leaves Janesville at 2:15 were badly frightened this afternoon when the rear trucks of the car took the switch at the freight house on Franklin street while the front trucks went straight ahead. Passengers were thrown from their seats while suitcases which had been placed on the racks overhead were sent flying in all directions. No one was injured.

The car was going about five miles an hour when the accident occurred. The front trucks passed the switch at the freight house successfully but the rear trucks were caught and the whole car swung sideways, tearing both trucks loose and breaking the brakes. When the car came to a stop, the trucks were both pointing south while the body of the car was facing west. The engine gear was a complete wreck and the car blocked both the main track and the switch.

Conductor Whitfield immediately telephoned to Rockford for a car to take the passengers forward and the wrecking car to clear the track.

INMATE OF POORHOUSE GETS $200,000 FORTUNE

Albert Newhouse Too Poor to Buy Stamp When Told of His Luck.

Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 22.—To fall heir to $200,000 left by Oliver Newhouse of Indianapolis, while an inmate of the county poorhouse here, is the strange luck of Albert Newhouse.

The legatee is 30 years old and has been ill, penniless and friendless for some time. He has been employed at a local hotel as porter for several years, but six months ago was laid up with a severe attack of rheumatism and was compelled to go to the poor farm.

The young man received the information about his fortune without any display of emotion. He immediately offered to pay the county for the expense of his care, although he did not possess enough money to buy a postage stamp. It is learned that Albert Newhouse has a brother, but they have been enemies for some years. The estate comprises 200 acres of rich Indiana farm land located within five miles of Indianapolis and valued at $500 an acre. There is also the sum of $50,000 in cash on deposit in Indianapolis banks. This, with stocks and bonds, brings up the total to $200,000.

The property is free from all incumbrances or entanglements of any kind and will be turned over to the poor farm beneficiary without any deductions. It is not believed that the brother ignored will make any fight to obtain a portion of the estate.

SENATOR AMUSES PASTORS.

Gore's Chicken Story Enjoyed by Methodist Preachers in Convention.

Pleasant Hill, Mo., Aug. 22.—Rev. Mr. Williams, pastor of the Pleasant Hill church, who has just returned from the Methodist convention at St. Joseph, says United States Senator Gore, the blind statesman of Oklahoma, who addressed the convention, missed his calling when he went to the senate.

According to Senator Gore there was an accomplished hen with a brood of chickens—five roosters and five pullets—down in Oklahoma. The chicks matured and went their various ways while the mother hen busied herself with a new brood.

In the course of time Methodists came into the vicinity of "Chickenville" to hold a conference, and, as might be suspected, the five young roosters—fat, yellow-legged and extremely tender—were feasted upon by various and sundry preachers. The young pullets, left behind, were met by the mother hen a day or so later. "My children," she asked, "where are your brothers?"

"They have entered the ministry," replied one of the preachers. "Bringing himself from the shock of disclosure, a look of resignation spread over biddy's countenance as she replied:

"Well, my dears, perhaps it is all for the best. They would not have made good lay members, anyway."

WANTS TO HANG FOR MURDER.

Blayer of Woman in Police Chief's Office Courts Death.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 22.—Declaring that when he is called for trial he will plead guilty and ask the court to have him hanged as soon as possible, George L. Marlon, who shot and killed his common law wife in the office of Chief of Police Long here on Friday night, said he is fully decided upon the course he will pursue.

He said it would be foolishness to deny the shooting, or to attempt to show that he did not come prepared to do the act. He says the best thing for him to do is to make a clean breast of it all to the court and to ask for his punishment.

"I have nothing to live for now," he said. "I loved the woman and now that she is gone I am willing to go too, and the sooner the better." Friends believe he is insane and that it will not be difficult for attorneys at the trial to prove it. If he does not engage attorneys to defend him the court will appoint attorneys and they will, it is believed, make emotional insanity the defense.

"Don't propose to a girl until you have known her for a year," says a woman philosopher. Merit of this advice probably lies in the fact that a man who waits that long is in no danger of being married.—Exchange.

WILL BE TRIED FOR QUADRUPLE MURDER

Emil Victor to be Arraigned Before Aberdeen, S. D. Court Tomorrow—Slew Entire Family.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Aberdeen, S. D., Aug. 22.—What promises to be one of the most notable murder trials that has ever taken place in South Dakota is slated to begin before Judge McNulty here tomorrow, when Emil Victor, a youth scarcely out of his teens, will be arraigned in court to stand trial for the alleged murder of four persons.

The quadruple crime, which Victor is said to have confessed, was committed on the night of July 2, last. The victims were John W. Christie, his wife, his daughter Mildred, and Michael Tomany, a farm hand. The scene of the tragedy was the Christie farm, near the town of Rudolph, Victor, the alleged murderer, was employed on a neighboring farm.

Robbery is believed to have been the motive for the diabolical crime. Christie was agent for an elevator company, dealing to and from the farm in the grain season. He was known to have considerable money in the house at times.

Christie was evidently the first victim of the tragedy. He had been milking a cow when the murderer appeared from behind and felled him with a blow from a hammer. Death probably was instantaneous. The Romano boy, who was working in a stall next to Christie, was killed by a blow through the skull with the hammer, a bullet wound through the side, and another through the arm.

The shots which completed the work of the hammer in extinguishing the boy's life evidently attracted the attention of Mrs. Christie, who hurried to the back porch to investigate, and met her death. Two bullets were fired at her, one striking her in the abdomen, the other passing through her heart, causing instant death.

The shots which killed the mother aroused the daughter, who was still in bed. Springing up she hastened to the door of her room when the murderer entered. He held her with one hand and fired a bullet through her brain with the other. The murderer then ransacked every room of the house, hastily emptying the drawers upon the floor in order to examine the contents. Four purses were ripped to pieces.

Within twenty-four hours after the murder young Victor was arrested at Northville, about twenty miles from the scene of the tragedy. A watch belonging to one of the members of the Christie family is said to have been found on his person.

Victor's attorneys bent every effort to induce the state's attorney to consent to a life sentence in consideration of Victor pleading guilty. When the offer was refused, with the statement that nothing but a death sentence would be satisfactory to the state, in view of the heinousness of the crime, it was decided to have Victor plead not guilty and trust him to the mercies of a jury.

WRIGHT, BROS. INVENTION TO INSURE STABILITY

Washington, D. C.—The objective devised to secure this. The latest invention of the Wright Bros. is perhaps the most practical of any. This invention has not actually been tried, but it is believed to be withstanding in this one direction. When an airplane is subjected to the whims of the elements and in all but unusually severe weather it will be quite as safe in an airplane as in a steamer or on board a train. 5c BUYS ENTERTAINMENT

That Costs Thousands of Dollars To Produce

When you step into any of the four Five Cent Theatres in Janesville you see pictures that cost thousands of dollars to produce.

The highest paid actors are employed to pose for the scenes.

Often they must travel thousands of miles to find just the right settings.

When you see pictures of the West, or East, of Africa, the Orient, the Holy Lands, of the North or South, you are seeing the country just as it is. The camera reproduces just as you would see these lands if you traveled there. From an educational standpoint, this form of amusement is unexcelled. In the minds of children it implants knowledge that will remain; and the impressions formed are correct impressions.

Let the Children Visit the 5c Theatres Often

It broadens their minds, and come with the children and enjoy this wonderful new form of entertainment that has become the favorite in all towns, cities and villages in the United States.

LEON BOURGEOIS, EX-MINISTER OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS, OF FRANCE.

CHILDREN OF FAMOUS MEN AT THE NATIONAL CAPITAL. The children of Prince de Bearn Chaille.

Washington, D. C.—Two very interesting children are those of Prince de Bearn Chaille, formerly attaché of the French embassy. The prince married Beatrice Winans, daughter of Richard Winans of Baltimore, Md. The mother died, leaving a large fortune to the children, making her father or trustee. The prince legally tried to get control of the money, but the courts decided against him. Beatrice the elder child, speaks French fluently and has attracted much attention by her charming fancy dancing. Gaston, the boy, is 20 months old.

The three inventors of the three great branches of intercommunication. Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone; Samuel Morse, inventor of the telegraph; and Cyrus W. Field, who laid the first ocean cable.

Washington, D. C.—The telegraph wires used by the people of the United States in communicating with each other would reach to the moon 68 times, and there would still be the earth's end of an interplanet communication.

Such are some of the astounding facts brought out in a booklet to be issued this week by the department of commerce and labor. It deals with the general subject of telegraph systems in the United States in 1907. The figures have been prepared by William H. Stuart, under the direction of United States Census Director E. D. Dunsen.

This is the third census to be taken. The first was in 1880, the second in 1902, and the third for 1907 is just completed.

The returns show that there are more than 15,000,000 miles of single wire in actual use. To make this more tangible compare it to the circumference of the earth, or the distance to the moon—about 230,000 miles—or to Mars this year, when it will be about 20,000,000 miles from us.

Of this single wire mileage the telephone uses over six times as much as the telegraph.

There were an average of 11 1/2 messages sent each second of every 24 hours in 1907 by the telegraph companies. No attempt was made to estimate the number of telephone calls over the country, but it would have been many hundreds of times this.

Just 43 years ago last Thursday Cyrus West Field completed the laying of the Atlantic cable. Today there are more than 40,000 nautical miles of ocean cable.

Alexander Graham Bell, who is still hale and hearty at the age of 62, and at present trying to solve the problem of air navigation, first exhibited his new invention, the telephone, at the Philadelphia exhibition in 1876. This year the people of the United States will pay nearly $200,000,000 for the privilege of using Bell's invention.

It was less than eighty years ago that Samuel F. B. Morse first saw the possibilities of communicating by the telegraph. Today nearly 100,000 men receive over $100,000,000 for operating the telegraph systems of the United States.

BABY PLAYS WITH DIAMONDS

Gems Worth $100,000 Toys of a Laborer's Child.

New York, Aug. 23.—Having nothing to play with except $100,000 worth of diamonds, the one-year-old baby of Stephano Bardago, a laborer, who lives at 353 Third street, Jersey City, has been having a hard time lately to amuse himself. The youngster had grown so tired of his diamond bowknot brooch, his diamond (bars, diamond embossed watch and other playthings that he made no pretense at all when three Jersey City policemen took the gems away.

Since June 29, when they were lost on the Passaic, an Erie ferryboat on the Twenty-third street line, by somebody who offered a reward of $5,000 for information leading to their recovery, most of the gems have been the toys of the Bardago baby.

The baby's relatives, who thought the diamonds were glass, had traded with their neighbors a couple of diamond rings for cups of sugar, slices of bacon and other articles of real value.

STEAMER BEACHED IN CRASH.

Senator of Detroit in Collision with the Norman B. Ream.

Bault St. Marie, Mich., Aug. 23.—The 410-foot freight steamer Senator of Detroit was beached yesterday on the upper end of the middle ground in the St. Mary's river opposite Detroit as the result of a collision with the steamer Norman B. Ream of Cleveland.

Ten Senator had a large hole stove in her starboard side abreast of the engine room and there was barely time to run her on the middle ground before she filled with water. No one was injured in the collision.

SIX LIVES LOST IN SPEED CONTEST

BAPTISM OF BLOOD MAY MEAN END FOR INDIANAPOLIS TRACK.

HORRIFIES BEST CITIZENS

Three Deaths Added to List on Last Day When Auto's Tire Explodes and Machine Dashes Through Fence into Crowd.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 23.—Three days' racing having cost six lives, the better class of Indianapolis citizens are doubtful whether it would be wise ever to have another speed contest on the new $400,000 track which was baptized in blood last week. Greater precautions for safety will be necessary if the speedway ever is used again.

The better class of Indianapolis citizens say they do not care for the sport at such a sacrifice of life.

Record Speedway's Deaths.

The record of death is:

Clifford Littler, 27 years old, Dayton, O., mechanic on a Stoddard-Dayton car, struck by a big racing car on the way to the speedway on Tuesday. Died Thursday in Methodist hospital.

William A. Bourque, 26, Springfield, Mass., driver of Knox car, killed in 250-mile race Thursday when car turned turtle.

Harry Holcomb, 22, Springfield, Mass., mechanic on Knox car, killed with Bourque.

Clyde Kellum, Indianapolis, mechanic on National car, killed in the 300-mile race Saturday when a tire on Merz's machine burst and racer dashed through fence.

Homer H. Joliff, 20, Franklin, Ind., spectator, killed when National car went through fence.

James West, 29, 451 West Merrill street, Indianapolis, killed when National car went through fence.

Death Comes Mile a Minute.

Death came with appalling swiftness to Homer Joliff, 20, and unmarried, a farmer, who had motored here from Trafalgar, Ind., to witness the speed trials. James West, a meat cutter, seated with Joliff on the fence near the bleachers a mile from the starting line, went to his death in the same instant when the National six, driven by Charles Merz, a local pilot, burst the tire of the right front wheel while careening through space at a rate of 70 miles an hour.

A crash and the great machine turned turtle and whirled like a giant's rocket into the fence around the course. Over the barrier, jumping a bridge and on through space the car traveled like a catapult, leaving a trail of blood behind.

Kellum Trapped by Car.

Joliff and West were killed outright. Frank Kellum, mechanic on Merz, was pinned beneath the machine when it landed on the ground 40 feet from the course and died an hour later at the Emergency hospital, where surgeons had operated in a desperate effort to save his life.

Merz escaped with a slight scalp wound, a seeming miracle working in his favor. Though buried under the car along side his companion, Merz managed to retain his position at the wheel and to shut off the whirling motor.

Motor ambulances were rushed to the scene, but the efforts of the surgeons availed nothing, save in the case of Henry Tompkins of 219 North New Jersey street, this city, and a number of spectators who had suffered minor injuries during the excitement of the crash.

At the National camp it was said the accident might have been averted had the crew of the fated car stopped to change tires. The equipment had worn almost to the rims in the terrific grind, but, like all racing pilots, Merz thought the tires would hold.

Keene's Auto in Crash.

Promoters of the race took the tragedy in a matter of fact manner and insisted that the contest go on. It did, but only for another lap or so until Bruce Keene's Marmon turned turtle on the back stretch, two miles from the starting line, while running at a rate of 65 miles an hour. This car was among the leaders in the contest and was hitting a dizzy pace when Keene lost control of the steering apparatus and the crash followed.

Both Keene and his mechanic, Robert Schiller, were driven with frightful force from their seats, and as in the case of the National car, the driver escaped with minor injuries, while the assistant received the brunt of the collision. Schiller was rammed against one of the pickets along the fence and when picked up by the ambulance attendants had a fracture of the skull and internal injuries. He has a fighting chance for recovery.

Taft Plans Reid's Removal.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 23.—The return home of Ambassador Reid has aroused a good deal of fresh speculation as to the appointment of his successor at the court of St. James. It is pretty well understood that Mr. Reid wishes to serve another three or four years in London, but the President is not disposed to continue Mr. Reid as ambassador any longer than is required to find the man desired to succeed him.

The man, who would climb the Mountain of Great Deeds, finds it necessary to first cut his way through the Forest of Small Duties.

WELLMAN TO TRY AGAIN

Will Have Larger Balloon for Attempt to Reach Pole.

Hammerfest, Norway, Aug. 23.—Walter Wellman's balloon America, exploded August 16 at a point 32 miles distant from his balloon shed on the island of Spitzbergen. Wellman and his companions consequently were forced to make a landing, but none of the men in the balloon was injured.

The departure in the balloon shed was made successfully and under favorable auspices, and up to the time of the explosion the balloon apparently was acting well.

Mr. Wellman plans to build a new ship, longer and narrower than that which met with disaster and of higher speed. Other improvements will be made, profiting by experience. Workmen have started enlarging the airship house and making all ready for another campaign. All members of the crew of the airship have the utmost confidence in their leader and in the ultimate success of his enterprise. They have asked to go with him on his next voyage.

You can't expect to keep up with the procession if you stand on the sidewalk and watch the parade pass by.

The great contest has now come to a question of days, and from tonight only 12 days remain.
The great good-natured battle of votes, which has extended over the past six weeks, has brought up more interest than any other contest in mercantile or journalistic fields ever inaugurated. In this part of the country, the contest is now at the beginning of the seventh week, two more remain—but the real tug of war is yet to come.
Go right after those promised subscriptions, don't let them get away. The elegant piano may be won in your district by the margin of votes given on a new twelve month's daily subscription. Don't wait for another contest to get in ahead of you.
All subscriptions can now be turned into this office, and ballots will be issued on the same. These ballots can be held in reserve to vote at any time you desire.

Important Question Answered.
So many inquiries have come to this office pertaining to the final count, as to who will conduct it, etc., that we submit the following conditions, under which the same will be carried out.

On Tuesday morning, Aug. 31, at 9 o'clock, the votes will be counted for the last time until Saturday night, Sept. 4.

Directly after the votes are counted Tuesday the ballot box will be locked and sealed and the key to the same sealed in an envelope and delivered to Mr. A. P. Thurgood, cashier, who will deposit it for safe keeping in the Rock County National bank until Saturday night, Sept. 4th, when it will be delivered to the judges, who will open the box at nine p. m. and begin the final count.

The Gazette requests that each candidate be represented at this final count by a gentleman friend to assist in selecting the judges.

The friends of the contestants are also cordially invited to be present at The Gazette office to witness the final count.

As soon after nine o'clock as the tally clerks can be selected, the counting of the ballots will begin and the decision will be made at the earliest possible moment.

Announcement of the place of holding the final count will be made as soon as all the arrangements are complete.

The count will be conducted in full view of everyone, and will be carried out fairly and squarely and to the personal satisfaction of all. There has not been nor will be a vote issued but what is bonafide.

It cannot be said too emphatically that candidates who are desirous of winning one of the prizes should use their greatest efforts during the remaining days of this contest.

Future Orders.

Don't give up getting a party as a subscriber, simply because he is already taking some other paper for which he has paid in advance. Take his subscription to The Gazette to begin at the expiration of the other paper, and when that time arrives, he will begin to receive The Gazette.

Open Evenings.

For the benefit of those who cannot call during business hours, this office and contest department will be open every evening.

AUTOMOBILE VICTIM

WAS BORN IN CITY

George A. MacLean of Chicago Killed Near New Brunswick, N. J., Remembered by Old Residents.

George A. MacLean of the Marshall Field Company, Chicago, who was killed in an automobile accident near New Brunswick, N. J., Saturday, was born in Janesville and left this city in 1867 to go to Chicago, where he had since resided. The father, Archibald MacLean, a tall, slender Scotchman who conducted a clothing store here in the Sixties, will be remembered by the old residents. George MacLean had two brothers, William and Archibald, and for many years after leaving the city he used to return with the Highlanders of Chicago for the annual Scotch picnic. Mr. MacLean was connected with the Marshall Field company, having charge of their lace department. With his wife and son and the Misses Harriet and Jeannette McDonald of Chicago he was enjoying an automobile trip in the east. The chain on the steering gear broke while the machine was going at a high rate of speed and the auto dashed into a telegraph pole. Mr. MacLean and his son were instantly killed and his wife and the chauffeur and two McDonald girls so badly injured it was first thought they would die. However, their possible recovery is now reported. Mr. MacLean visited Janesville regularly for many years after leaving the city to make his home in Chicago. He was the road representative for the Marshall Field company and later became associated with the firm as a partner and was, it is believed, to have become manager upon the retirement of Mr. Shedd. His father was always loyal to his old home and old friends in this city and often came here to visit. His last visit came ten years ago when he was over ninety years of age.

A Thinker's Thoughts

If you are a thinker your brain wears away in proportion as you use it and this waste must be rebuilt by food (there's no other way) else the brain grows dull and is a poor instrument.

In Grape-Nuts food all the elements required for this brain building are found in the most liberal proportions, the parts of grains that supply the phosphate of Potash and Albumen being especially selected in making.

The Man From Brodney's

By GEORGE BARR
M'UTCHEON

Copyright, 1908, by Dodd, Mead & Co.

"I'll tell you the whole story of Janet, Arch, but not until tomorrow," Chase said to him as they drove toward the city. "I arrived yesterday on the Marquis of B's yacht, the Cricket. You know him? Of course you do. Everybody does. The Cricket was cruising down my way and picked me up—howles and me. The captain came a bit out of his way to call at Ararat, but he had orders of some sort from the marquis by cable, I fancy, to stop off for me."

He did not regard it as necessary to tell his correspondent friend that the Cricket had sailed from Marseilles with but one port in view—Ararat. He did not tell him that the Cricket had come with a message to him and that he was answering it in person, as it was intended that he should—a message written six weeks before his arrival in France. There were many things that Chase did not explain to Archibald James.

"You're looking fine, Chase, old man. Did you a lot of good out there. You are as brown as that Arab in the taxi-meter back there. By Jove, old man, that Persian girl is ripping. You say she's his wife? Show!" Chase broke in upon this far from original estimate of the picturesque Nephthys.

"I say, Arch, there's something. I want to know before I go to the marquis this evening. I'm due there with my thanks. He lives in the Boulevard St. Germain—I've got the number all right. Is one likely to find the house full of swells? I'm a bit of a savage just now, and I'm correspondingly tired."

"His friend stared at him for a moment. "I can save you the trouble of going to the marquis," he said. "He and the unreluctant one in London at present. Left Paris a month ago."

"What? The house is closed?" in deep anxiety.

"I think not. Servants are all there, I dare say. Their place adjoins the Brabets palace. The princess is his niece, you know."

"You say the Brabets palace is next door?" demanded Chase, standing his voice with an effort.

"Yes—the old Brabets mansion. The princess was to have been the social sensation of Paris this year. She's a wonderful beauty, you know."

"Was to have been?"

"She married that rotten Brabets last June, but of course you never heard of it out there in what's-the-name-of-the-place. You may have heard of his murder, however. His mistress shot him in Brussels."

"Great God, man!" gasped Chase, clutching his arm in a grip of iron.

"The devil, Chase!" cried the other, amazed. "What's the matter?"

"He's dead? Murdered? How—when? Tell me about it!" cried Chase, his agitation so great that James looked at him in wonder.

"Glad you seem to be interested!"

"I am! Where is she—I mean the

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her.

Williamville, Conn.—"For five years I suffered untold agony from female troubles, causing backache, irregularity, dizziness and nervous prostration. It was impossible for me to walk upstairs without stopping on the way. I tried three different doctors and each told me something different. I received no benefit from any of them, but seemed to suffer more. The last doctor said nothing would restore my health. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to see what it would do, and I am restored to my natural health."—Mrs. BETTA DONOVAN, Box 209, Williamville, Conn.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularity, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and suffering women owe it to themselves to at least give this medicine a trial. Proof is abundant that it has cured thousands of others, and why should it not cure you?

princess and the other woman?"

"Cool off, old man. People are staring at you. Brabets was shot three weeks ago, at a hotel in Brussels. He'd been living there for two months, more or less, with the woman. In fact, he left Paris almost immediately after he was married to the Princess Genevieve. The gossip is that she wouldn't live with him. She'd found out what sort of a dog he was. They didn't have a honeymoon, and they didn't attempt a bridal tour. Somehow they kept the scandal out of the papers. Well, he bled out of Paris at the end of a week, just before the 14th. The police had asked the woman to leave town. He followed. Dope dead, they say. The bride went into seclusion at once. She's never to be seen anywhere. The woman shot him through the head and then took a fine dose of poison. It was a ripping news story. The prominence of the—"

"This was a month ago?" demanded Chase, trying to fix something in his mind. "Then it was after the yacht left Marseilles with orders to pick me up at Ararat."

"What are you talking about? Sure it was. If the yacht left Marseilles six weeks ago. What's that got to do with it?"

"Nothing. Don't mind me, Arch. I'm a bit upset."

"There was talk of a divorce almost before the wedding bells ceased ringing. The grand duke got his eyes opened when it was too late. He reported of the marriage. The princess was obliged to live in Paris for a certain length of time before applying to the courts for freedom. God, I'll stake my hand she's happy these days!"

Chase was silent for a long time. He was quite cool and composed when at last he turned to his friend.

"Arch, do me a great favor. Look out for Selin and Nephthys. Take 'em to the hotel and see that they get settled. I'll join you this evening. Don't ask questions, but put me down here. I'll take another cab. There's a good fellow. I'll explain some. I'm—I'm going somewhere, and I'm in a hurry."

The volume drew up before the historic old palace in the Boulevard St. Germain. Chase's heart was beating furiously as he stepped to the curb. The coach leaned forward for instruction.

"I want you for my husband, dearest," Chase said to her as they drove toward the city. "I arrived yesterday on the Marquis of B's yacht, the Cricket. You know him? Of course you do. Everybody does. The Cricket was cruising down my way and picked me up—howles and me. "I want you for my husband, dearest," Chase said to her as they drove toward the city. "I arrived yesterday on the Marquis of B's yacht, the Cricket. You know him? Of course you do. Everybody does. The Cricket was cruising down my way and picked me up—howles and me. The captain came a bit out of his way to call at Ararat, but he had orders of some sort from the marquis by cable, I fancy, to stop off for me."

He did not regard it as necessary to tell his correspondent friend that the Cricket had sailed from Marseilles with but one port in view—Ararat. He did not tell him that the Cricket had come with a message to him and that he was answering it in person, as it was intended that he should—a message written six weeks before his arrival in France. There were many things that Chase did not explain to Archibald James.

"You're looking fine, Chase, old man. Did you a lot of good out there. You are as brown as that Arab in the taxi-meter back there. By Jove, old man, that Persian girl is ripping. You say she's his wife? Show!" Chase broke in upon this far from original estimate of the picturesque Nephthys.

"I say, Arch, there's something. I want to know before I go to the marquis this evening. I'm due there with my thanks. He lives in the Boulevard St. Germain—I've got the number all right. Is one likely to find the house full of swells? I'm a bit of a savage just now, and I'm correspondingly tired."

"His friend stared at him for a moment. "I can save you the trouble of going to the marquis," he said. "He and the unreluctant one in London at present. Left Paris a month ago."

"What? The house is closed?" in deep anxiety.

"I think not. Servants are all there, I dare say. Their place adjoins the Brabets palace. The princess is his niece, you know."

"You say the Brabets palace is next door?" demanded Chase, standing his voice with an effort.

"You came!" she said, almost in a whisper. "I could not have stayed away. I have just heard that you—you are free. You must not expect me to offer condolences. It would be sheer hypocrisy. I am glad—I am glad! You sent for me—you sent the yacht, Geneva, before—before you were free. I came knowing that you belonged to another. I find you the same as when I knew you first—when I held you in my arms and heard you say that you loved me. You do not grieve—you do not mourn. You are the same, my Geneva—the same that I have dreamed of and suffered for all these months. Something tells me that you have descended to my plane. I will not kiss you, Geneva, until you have promised to become my wife."

She had not taken her eyes from his white, intense face during this long summering-up.

"Hollingsworth, I cannot, I will not blame you for thinking ill of me," she said. "I have fallen in your eyes? I wanted you to be near me. I wanted you to know that when the courts freed me from that man I would be ready and happy to come to you as your wife. I am not in mourning today, you see. I knew you were coming. As God is my witness, I have no husband to mourn for. He was nothing to me. I want you for my husband, dearest. It was what I meant when I sent out there for you—that and nothing else."

[THE END.]

"Drop in Any Time." One of the pitfalls of friendship is the standing invitation. It is easy and pleasant to say: "Come whenever you like, my dear! We shall be delighted to see you at any time; don't stand on ceremony—come whenever you are this way." But let those who receive such invitations beware. It stands to reason that an unexpected visit cannot always be convenient—the hostess is in the midst of something or other and "not fit to be seen," or her husband has rushed home to take her out somewhere and she would rather go than stay at home and entertain her dearest friend, or the luncheon or the dinner is a makeshift—very nice, so far as the family is concerned, but not exactly suitable to set before visitors. The hostess tries to be nice, but can't help showing her vexation or embarrassment. The guest perceives something indefinable in the atmosphere and is accordingly constrained, yet every one is uncomfortable. Yet people still go on giving and accepting standing invitations.—New York Tribune.

From Bad to Worse. A gentleman was admiring his pigeons the other afternoon when he heard a curious "thud" and saw one of his birds drop from a window sill to the ground.

Turning round, the gentleman was just in time to see a small boy in the lane drop a catapult and run.

After a short chase the culprit was caught.

"You young scoundrel!" ejaculated the angry owner of the pigeon. "What do you mean by coming and shooting my birds?"

"Pigeons, sir, I didn't mean to do it," whined the culprit. "I—I didn't shoot at the pigeon."

"Come, come," said the gentleman, "don't make matters worse. I saw the bird fall, and if you did not aim at it, how came you to hit it?"

"Pigeons, sir," blubbered the boy. "The pigeon got in the way. I—I was aiming at the window."—London Tit-Bits.

DECATUR'S BIG FIRE SUNDAY MORNING

LOSS OF $1,000,000 CAUSED BY FLAMES IN ILLINOIS CITY.

WATER FAMINE FOLLOWS

Reservoir Nearly Empty After Firemen Extinguish Blaze in Business Section—Springfield Sends Engine and Men to Neighboring City.

Decatur, Ill., Aug. 23.—Charred ruins and smoking debris today tell the story of the $1,000,000 fire which gave the local department and firemen from Springfield a battle from one o'clock yesterday morning to four o'clock in the afternoon. The fire started in Moorehouse & Wells' hardware store in Main street and spread rapidly.

Following the fire, which is the worst in the history of the city, Decatur faced a water famine. It became necessary to shut off the residence districts, the supply of water in the reservoir being down to seven feet. The waterworks last night worked under fire pressure to refill the reservoir. The condition temporarily placed the city in a hazardous position, especially if another fire should start.

Panic in a Hotel. During the fire a blaze was discovered in the engine room of the Decatur hotel, situated a half block west of the district that was being destroyed. There was a panic among the guests, who realized that the firemen had a bigger job on their hands than they could handle. Prompt work by the hotel people resulted in extinguishing the flames before they had a chance to spread.

In response to a call for help, Springfield sent an engine and fire crew under the direction of Assistant Chief Callen, and this gave the city four engines with which to fight the flames. The department was crippled by falling walls covering several hundred feet of hose.

The following buildings, together with their stocks of goods, were destroyed:

Moorehouse & Wells Hardware Company, Henry Daeschach, clothing; John Spotts, cigar dealer; Sam's confectionery store, City Book store, Dick's poolroom, Danzelsen's meat market, Peerless cold drink parlor, White Front poolroom, Union Pacific Tea Company, Munro's soft drink parlor, Brinkmeyer building, Rogers & Clark, shoe store; F. H. Cole shoe Company, Shade Lokey, shoe store, Frank Curtis, jewelry store, badly damaged; Young's clothing store, P. Augustine, optical store, Noah's Ark. Those partly destroyed are: E. W. Armstrong, drug store; G. W. Harris, hat store; Post, jewelry store; Elwood & Handlin, clothing; Chodot Book store, Ralph & Young, shoe store. These buildings face on East Main street, Merchant street and Water street, and are in the very heart of the district. Everything mentioned was either wholly or practically destroyed.

Starts in Six-Story Building. Moorehouse & Wells, in whose building the fire started, occupied a modern six-story building, which was one of the show places of the city. Their loss is complete and is estimated at $300,000. Other losses range from $10,000 to $70,000, but it is impossible to get accurate figures.

Special police measures have been taken for the protection of the city. The work of rebuilding the burned district will start just as quick as the ruins can sufficiently to permit men to remove the debris.
